

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

Turtle Slow BY DADDY

CHAPTER II Slow Lovers

STICK-IN-THE-MUD TURTLE

Stuffed slowly at his pipe as he sat down to tell Jack and Janet the story of the two sweethearts—Beautiful Boy and Beautiful Girl.

"It was long, long ago that I became a letter-carrier," said Stick-in-the-Mud. "It began one fine day while I was sunning myself on a rock near the shore of the lake.

"I was taking a little nap, when a sad sigh aroused me. On the shore was a handsome lad. He was the one who I was sunning myself on a rock near the shore of the lake.

"Ah, me," said the handsome lad, whose name was Beautiful Boy. "I love Beautiful Girl, but whenever I write to her so I lose my courage. Perhaps this book will help me. Its name is

"How to Win a Lady Fair."

"The handsome boy sat on the bank and studied the book. At last he gave a glad cry. 'Hurrah,' said he. 'Here is just what I want—a series of 100 love-making letters. Each letter will cause Beautiful Girl to grow fonder of me, and by the time I have reached the last one I may safely ask her to marry me.'

"At that Beautiful Boy began to write the first letter, copying it from the book. When he had finished he sealed it in an envelope, and arose from the bank of the lake.

"Now," cried he, 'whom shall I get to carry my letter to Beautiful Girl? She lives far, far away beyond the deep lake, beyond the Great Woods, beyond the broad swamps and up the high hills.

"I will carry your letter to Beautiful Girl," I said to Beautiful Boy.

"He was astonished to receive such an offer from a turtle, but as he had no other messenger, he gladly accepted it. He made a rubber coat for his shell and tucked the letter inside. And it was I, Beautiful Boy, who carried the letter to Beautiful Girl. Beautiful Girl was delighted to receive it, and sent an answer by me.

Then Beautiful Boy sent me back with letter No. 2. And ever since I have been letter-carrier for them. A month it takes me to go from him to her, and a month to come back. Then as you know, I sleep four months in the mud during the winter. I take a month to get ready for bed, and a month to get wide awake. That makes six months I cannot carry letters.

"Thus I am able to carry three letters a year. I have been carrying them for twenty years. How many does that make?"

"Sixty," promptly replied Jack, who was good at figures. "And if there are 100 letters in the wondrous series, you still have forty more to carry."

"My, that will take you a long time," said Janet.

"Oh, but I have lots of time," chuckled Stick-in-the-Mud turtle. "I have more time than any man or woman on earth."

"How do you make that out?" asked Jack.

Stick-in-the-Mud Turtle answered with another question: "How long do you expect to live?" Jack thought that over.

"Perhaps as long as grandfather,"

he answered. "And he is eighty years old."

"And I expect to live as long as my grandfather, and he is 180 years old," chuckled Stick-in-the-Mud Turtle. "That is why I have lots of time to deliver these letters."

"But how about poor Beautiful Boy and Beautiful Girl?" asked Janet. "If you have been carrying letters for them for twenty years they must be beginning to get old."

"They are," said Stick-in-the-Mud Turtle. "And as they cannot get married until the series of 100 letters is finished, I'll have to hurry along or I'll get behind my monthly schedule."

"Wait," cried Janet, who had caught sight of Hoppity-Hop Rabbit among those letters and bring nearer the marriage of Beautiful Boy and Beautiful Girl."

"What is it?" asked Beautiful Boy.

"I have just thought of a way to help you. You can have a letter-carrier who will carry your letters for you. I will carry your letter to Beautiful Girl," I said to Beautiful Boy.

Blazing the trail to Quiet

The NOISELESS PORTABLE "Your Junior Partner"

Before you buy a Portable Typewriter—consider The Noiseless Portable. We can't promise that you will hear much—but you will SEE a beautiful, convenient typewriter that combines quiet with the speed, beauty of work, durability and economy that only The Noiseless can give.

to increased production and more satisfactory work

THE ever-increasing, nation-wide acceptance of The Noiseless Typewriter is more than the recognition usually accorded a good product. It is the triumph of a great idea. An idea that means better working conditions and more satisfactory output for every one in an office—

QUIET This success has not been easily won. The Noiseless has met with the most severe competition and the most thorough tests that modern business methods could impose.

We have encouraged comparisons between The Noiseless and other typewriters. We know that the best way to prove the merit of any product is actually to show it in comparative service.

And it is in this way that The Noiseless has definitely made good!

The Recognition of Quiet We believe that the value of the quiet office is now recognized by every thoughtful business man. A most convincing proof of this is the fact that so many other typewriter companies are hastening to feature sound absorbers and other devices to deaden the noise of their machines.

But The Noiseless is the only inherently quiet typewriter in the world. It does not need sound absorbers—it simply does not make a noise when it writes. The hammer blow method of writing has been entirely eliminated—and with it noise!

Popularity Among Stenographers Evidence based upon the experience of thousands of stenographers indicates that users of Noiseless Typewriters, after a few weeks of operation, find The Noiseless superior in every respect to the old type noisy machine.

Its quiet is a welcome relief from nerve fatigue caused by noise, and its light, responsive touch materially reduces the strain of physical fatigue. No stenographer, once accustomed to the superiority of The Noiseless, will voluntarily use any other typewriter.

Let us consider your office— We commend The Noiseless to you on a strict basis of economy. We would like the opportunity to explain, in your office, just how The Noiseless will actually pay for itself in a few years as compared with a noisy machine. We will gladly bring you a Noiseless—and compare its speed, touch, quality of work and durability with any typewriter. Call, write or phone for a demonstration.
